EXPLANATION OF TIME HORIZON

When we ask for this information we intend for you to indicate the time when you believe you will need to access 30% or more of the entire portfolio within your plan to which this question refers within the range of years you indicate. We then use this information to help determine if an investment is suitable for you given the time period you have indicated in holding the investment. You may have more than one plan with us with a different time horizon for each.

EXPLANATION OF INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

INCOME – Goal is to generate current income from your investments and less focus on capital appreciation

BALANCED – Goal is a combination of income and growth, typically includes both fixed income and equity mutual funds

GROWTH – Goal is capital appreciation, current income is not a requirement, which may lead you to hold a higher portion of equity funds that have a higher risk tolerance

SPECULATIVE – Goal is capital gain, current income is not a requirement, investor is willing to lose 100% of investment. Typically invested in exempt market products and venture capital funds

EXPLANATION OF RISK TOLERANCE

LOW – For investors seeking a low expected rate of return but sufficient to provide some current income with a low risk that they will lose money in ordinary circumstances over the medium to long term (typically for Canadian fixed income funds);

LOW TO MODERATE – For investors accepting less than normal returns, but with a low risk, although higher than the “low” category, of losing money over the medium to long term (typically for asset allocation funds and balanced funds, although some equity funds qualify);

MODERATE – For investors expecting normal rates of return from equity investments with a normal amount of volatility (typically for Canadian and global large capitalization equity funds);

MODERATE TO HIGH – For investors seeking slightly higher than normal rates of return who are willing to undertake more risk to achieve that (typically for equity funds that invest in specific countries or in specific sectors of the economy);

HIGH – For investors seeking higher returns who are willing to take a substantial risk that they will lose money (typically for equity funds that invest in specific sectors of the economy or in higher risk regions of the world).

RISK/RETURN: In general, the higher your accepted risk tolerance is the higher your potential for greater returns (or greater losses). Alternatively, the lower your accepted risk tolerance the lower the potential returns (or losses).

RISK OF BORROWING TO INVEST

Here are some risks and factors that you should consider before borrowing to invest:

Is it Right for You?

Borrowing money to invest is risky. You should only consider borrowing to invest if:

- You are comfortable with taking risk.
- You are comfortable taking on debt to buy investments that may go up or down in value.
- You are investing for the long-term.
- You have a stable income.

You should not borrow to invest if:

- You have a low tolerance for risk
- You are investing for a short period of time.
- You intend to rely on income from the investments to pay living expenses.
- You intend to rely on income from the investments to repay the loan. If this income stops or decreases you may not be able to pay back the loan.

You Can End Up Losing Money

- If the investments go down in value and you have borrowed money, your losses would be larger than had you invested using your own money.
- Whether your investments make money or not you will still have to pay back the loan plus interest. You may have to sell other assets or use money you had set aside for other purposes to pay back the loan.
- If you used your home as security for the loan, you may lose your home.
- If the investments go up in value, you may still not make enough money to cover the costs of borrowing.

Tax Considerations

- You should not borrow to invest just to receive a tax deduction.
- Interest costs are not always tax deductible. You may not be entitled to a tax deduction and may be reassessed for past deductions. You may want to consult a tax professional to determine whether your interest costs will be deductible before borrowing to invest. Your advisor should discuss with you the risks of borrowing to invest.

Nature of Products and Services Offered

CFG is an independent mutual fund dealer and a member of the Mutual Fund Dealer Association of Canada "MFDA", a self regulatory organization that regulates mutual fund dealers. Under the Provincial securities legislation and through your agent, we offer a wide variety of mutual funds products and may also offer some CDIC insured products through Canadian Banks such as Guaranteed Investment Certificates "GIC's" which is an investment product that offers a fixed rate of interest for a specific term. Both principal and interest payments are guaranteed.

A mutual fund is an investment product that provides a convenient way for persons to invest their money. The mutual fund uses this money to buy different types of investments on behalf of all of the investors. When investing in a mutual fund, you purchase units or shares in the fund, where each unit or share represents a share of the total pool.

CFG does not have any proprietary (in house) products. No services are offered through CFG but your agent may independently offer services such as financial planning, income tax and accounting. Any services or products other than mutual funds are not the business or responsibility of CFG.

Procedures Regarding Handling of Cash and Cheques

All cheques must be made payable to the Mutual Fund company or your Intermediary Self Directed Plan (B2B). WE DO NOT ACCEPT CASH OR CHEQUES PAYABLE TO CFG OR YOUR AGENT. Please contact our Compliance team at compliance@candorgroup.com or by phone if you are asked to make a cheque payable to your agent.

Compensation – How we get paid

CFG may be paid a commission on your purchase of a mutual fund in addition to an ongoing commission (service or trailer fee) as long as you hold the investments. See our Dealer Compensation Disclosure for more details.

Content and Frequency of Reporting

We will send you quarterly reports of all your accounts held at CFG as required under MFDA rules. These will be sent by electronic notification or by mail if we have not received your permission for electronic reporting. You will also have daily 24 hour access to our secure web site reporting through candorgroup.com. Your agent will provide you with a secure link and password.

Suitability of Orders

Based on your signed account application and the information provided by you to your agent in your account application or the “Know Your Client” (KYC) update form, your agent will review all investment orders for suitability based on your stated investment objectives, risk tolerance and other personal information and circumstances and provide recommendations to help you achieve your financial goals. This may include a review of assets transferred into CFG and/or when your KYC or agent changes. Any trades that raise questions based on our suitability review will be returned to your agent for follow up with you. CFG has the discretion to reject any transaction requested by the client in their account(s) for eligibility, regulatory and/or legal reasons.

Securities legislation and MFDA rules require that each recommendation your agent makes must be suitable for you in relation to your investment objective, risk tolerance and other personal circumstances, often referred to as “KYC information”. Factors taken into consideration when assessing the suitability of a recommendation to purchase, sell, or exchange any product or service, includes:

- Personal circumstances such as: age, marital status, employment and dependent information;
- Time horizon, which is the length of time that you expect, or are willing to hold, the majority of investments in your plan;
- Financial information, which includes your annual income and net worth.
- Investment knowledge, which reflects your understanding of investing, investment products and their associated risks. Investment knowledge is usually ranked as either limited, fair, good or sophisticated;
- Investment objectives, which are your desired results from investing and should relate to the type of investments that will be purchased; and
- Risk tolerance, which is the degree of risk you are willing to assume and can tolerate, taking into consideration financial ability, time horizon, cash requirement and emotional response.

The following information summarizes the various categories of dealer compensation available to distributors of mutual fund securities and other financial products:

Front-Load Funds

Funds which are sold on a sales charge basis ("front-end funds") may require the deduction of a sales commission from the amount of your purchase order. This amount is agreed upon with you agent and may range from 0% - 5% of the total purchase. The net amount of your investment is then invested in securities of the fund at net asset value.

Deferred-Load Funds

Funds which are sold on a deferred sales charge ("deferred-load funds") require no deduction from the amount of your purchase order at the time of purchase, but your investment may be subject to a redemption charge if the securities which you purchased are redeemed within a specified time after purchase. Under the deferred charge method of purchase, the distributing dealer receives a sales commission at the time of purchase arranged by the sponsor.

Service Fees (Trailer Commissions)

Service fees (also known as "trailer commissions") are generally paid by the fund. Service fees encourage dealers to provide on-going services to their clients after the date of purchase, for which no sales commission would otherwise be received. Some fund sponsors do not pay service fee to dealers.

Fee Based Account

In a Fee Based account you pay a fee based on a percentage of the value of the money you have invested in the account. If you are in a Fee Based account, your dealer will not receive a trailer commission and you will not be charged any sales commissions. Since no trailer fee is paid by the fund, the MER of funds held in a fee based account should be lower than the same mutual fund held in a non-fee based account.

Other Sales Incentives

Many fund sponsors also provide additional sales incentive compensation to dealers to promote distribution of their sponsored funds. Common sales incentives include: marketing support programs provided for reimbursement of advertising or promotional expenses incurred in the solicitation of fund sales; sales conferences and education seminar programs held at locations in Canada or the United States; and merchandise prize and gift programs. If you have any questions concerning this disclosure statement, please speak with your agent.

You are encouraged to speak with your agent about how you are charged fees and which fee option is best for you given the value of your account and the services you receive.
